Personal Information

DiscountIf's information security system will use its best endeavours to ensure that privacy of all personal information you choose to provide us with is duly protected. Personal Information is any information about you and may include your name, address and other personal details, payment card details, information about any transaction with DiscountIf, including account transfer and any other information you may choose to supply us with.

The purpose of this document is to advise you on your rights in relation to privacy of your personal information and to show how DiscountIf intends to respect these rights.

DiscountIf reserves the right to change this Privacy Policy, including altering the purposes for which it processes your personal information. Your continued use of DiscountIf's site, where the changes will be uploaded as soon as reasonably practicable will constitute acceptance of those changes.

Collection of Personal Information on DiscountIf's site

You can submit personal information on DiscountIf's site in two areas:

- a) Public Area, and
- b) Private Area.

You will be asked to provide personal information in the public area to open your DiscountIf account. This information will include your name, age and address and may include other personal information.

Private Area is used by those who are already DiscountIf's customers, i.e. have opened an account with us. To login to your account you will be asked to use your password – session cookies may be used to leave and re-enter your account without remembering your password. For more details please refer to DiscountIf's Cookies Policy.

Monitoring of Personal Information on DiscountIf's site

In the interest of ensuring a high quality of our services we may monitor and/or record any communication between customers and DiscountIf whether in writing, by email, through our site or by phone. The email communication will not be encrypted. Any transmission of information will be at customer's sole risk.

You hereby consent to the monitoring and recording of this information.

Use of Personal Information

DiscountIf will process personal information you provide to allow you access and make use of DiscountIf's website, to allow you to participate in the services offered, to administer your account, to maintain our accounts and records, to monitor website usage levels and the quality of the service DiscountIf provides you with and to inform you, from time to time, about products and services that we consider may interest you and for related purposes. If you do not wish to receive future marketing, promotional or sales material you may notify DiscountIf that no further material be sent to you by using contact details available on DiscountIf's site.

Your contact details will be removed from our marketing databases as soon as reasonably practicable upon receipt of the removal request.

Your personal and other information may be retained and analysed it for the purpose of investigation of any actual or suspected criminal activity or any threat to the integrity of any event on our website and/or breaches of the rules of that event as determined by the relevant governing or sporting body.

All rights relating to the recording of your personal information shall be the property of DiscountIf.

Disclosure of personal information if required

DiscountIf may transfer or disclose your personal information, for the purposes above, to any company within its group within the meaning of Section 1159 of Companies Act 2006, or subject to appropriate agreement to third parties, for processing of personal information on DiscountIf's behalf. From time to time, DiscountIf may retain third parties to process customers' personal information for the purposes above and such processing will be governed by a lawful contract.

Where required by law, the personal information may also have to be disclosed to governmental, enforcement or regulatory authority, such as DiscountIf's regulators and/or sports governing bodies, including for the purposes of prevention and detection of crime or where there are reasonable grounds to suspect that you may have been involved in breach of law or rules of sports governing bodies, had knowledge of such or your conduct may pose a threat to sports integrity.

It may be necessary or required by law to disclose customer's personal information to bodies or entities located outside of the EU, each time in accordance with appropriate organisational, security and technical standards.

Use of Cookies

Please refer to DiscountIf's cookies policy to see how we use cookies to improve user experience on our site.

Consent

You explicitly consent to DiscountIf processing and disclosing your personal information and other data, as explained above or in DiscountIf's Account and Betting Terms and Conditions, by registering with DiscountIf or logging onto your account on DiscountIf's website.

In addition, by consenting to this Privacy Policy, by use of DiscountIf's site or otherwise, you agree that DiscountIf may store and use historical data relating to you and your account for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy.

If you wish to qualify, vary, modify or limit your consent in relation to marketing communications or in circumstances where any processing of your data is likely to cause damage or distress or such other circumstances as the law allows then you may do so by notifying us in writing by using DiscountIf's contact details on our site.

Applicable law

You may at any time request a copy of your Personal Information held by DiscountIf in accordance with subject access rules in the 1998 (UK) Data Protection Act.
